Barber Shoppers To Enetertain At Quartet Festival

The Berkeley Chapter of BARBER SHOPPERS 'razed the roof' to the delight of Richmond and El Cerrito wards as guests at a recent Qaurtet Festival. The Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America saw its beginning in 1938 and has been living up to its name. There were momentns when the audience wanted to jump right in and sing along with them.

Under direction of Dave Stevens the performance moved harmonously from graceful four-part chromatics through the tantilizing, toe-tapping, finger-snapping lyrics that took us back 'to the good old days.' Dave received his BA in Music from DePauw University and Master of Music from Northwestern University while on the teaching staff as choral director.

He is directing the Berkeley and Napa Societies. He led the Marin Saltaires to the FWS Championship in 1954, and in 1957 directed the Berkeley Californians to the position of International Barbershop Chorus Champions.

Millions of dollars worth of time, talent and money have been contributed to worthwhile community projects by this generous group. In 1964 they adopted as its unified service project the Institute of Logopedics which is located in Wichita, Kansas. This Institute is dedicated to the proble of speech handicaps (cerebral palsy, aphasia, cleft palate, stuttering) and the Barbershoppers support the program through donations, benefit shows and telethons. A portion of the receipts received at the conventions is given to Logopedics fulfilling the slogan . . . "We Sing That They Might Speak!"

The Society also helps in providing basic texts in braille and large print for visually handicapped students

THE INNER MORMON
By Howard M. King

"No man will rise high who jeers at sacred things."
— David O. McKay

The truly religious man is one who "confers" sacredness to an act, or an object, or a place, by the spirituality of his life. If his entire life style is pure, the individual gestures of his daily life are symbols of the love and quality of his soul.

The Sacrament is a symbol of love between God and Man, and between Man and Man. But if one's motives are based on love for God and Man, each act or place touched by one's presence becomes a Sacrament. Henry David Thoreau sensed that one could carry holiness around with him, rubbing it off onto one's simplest acts. He wrote, "I got up early and bathed in the pond; that was a religious exercise, and one of the best things which I did."

Mahatma Gandhi felt that sacredness was not so much transmitted from a holy place to a man, as visa versa. He said, "The soul, alas, needs a temporary abode, but a clean mud hut will do as well as a palace, much better in fact."

Kahlil Gibran sensed that individual acts could be sacred gestures, if their purposes were pure; "And all work is empty save when there is love;

"And when you work with love you bind yourself to yourself, and to one another, and to God."

The Mormon Patriarch Joseph F. Smith revealed this idea in his writings in 1944. He wrote, "A given place in and of itself is neither sacred nor profane. A particular area is neither holy nor unholy. A place is sanctified by the lives of the people who live upon it."

The idea of the sacred act is not limited, therefore, to only the Sacrament or the Temple Ordinances. A man's entire life can be a sacred act.

MANY SAMOA SAINTS

By JOE ROACH

Oakland 3d Ward has many large families. One is Brother Fatu Matagi, his wife, Paupuagi and their 14 children. (Eleven boys, Tafilele, Matagi Jr., Moranae, Eliu, Galu, Malepe, Randy, Heli, Samuela, Mose, Telemia and three girls, Konefesi, Aveolemalamal and Eletesi.)

One son, Tafilele, has served a mission and three sons, Matagi Jr., Moronae and Eliu are now on missions in Samoa. Brother Matagi was branch president in Samoa before coming to the U.S. in 1965 to Hayward Stake.

They moved to Oakland 3d Ward in 1967. Their home is in American Samoa, the village of Pago-Pago. Brother Matagi was ordained a High Priest at a recent quarterly conference. The family is very active in Temple work.

The entire family is very active in all Church functions: blessing and passing of the Sacrament, MIA, Relief Society, Primary, all Priesthood activities, sports and Galu is Secretary to the priests quorum and chairman of the youth activity for the ward.

Brother Matagi leads the singing in Priesthood meeting. Their home is completely organized as shows by their actions.

Patino Counselor In Spanish Branch

Gildardon Patino is new Second Counselor in the Spanish Branch, according to Branch President James Richardson. First Counselor is Jesus Martinez.

Brother Patino had been serving as Sunday School Superintendent, a position which has now been assumed by Saturnino Martinez, assited by Luis Reyna.

Sister Josephine Rivera is secretary.

Relief Society meeting time has been changed to Monday evenings at 7:30, under the direction of Sister Nelida Pisano. Spanish Branch members will observe Family Night on Wednesdays.

Spanish language meetings to which the public is invited are: Sacrament Service at 6:30 p.m.; Sunday School, 10:30 a.m.; Priesthood meeting at 9 a.m.; at the Oakland Fourth Ward, 4705 Virginia Street.

Concord Stake

By Boots Barrus

CONCORD STAKE held its first conference of the new year on Jan. 5. Presiding was President Ted E. Madsen.

June Coe was released as stake Relief Society president after serving for five years. Fern Pike was called to this position with Cleon Dahl retained as counselor, 2d counselor to be called and Barbara Pemberton as secretary.

President Madsen's keynote address was a report of the Stake's progress. He spoke on political issues confronting our Church members and gave sage advice on how we should not look to the Church for policies in political issues. Our immediate concern is with principles, not parties or issues, he stated.

The Concard Stake Youth Chorus, under direction of Thora Astle sang two numbers from the Temple Pageant. Lorraine Tyler served as accompanist. Congregational singing was led by Mildred Gibbs, stake chorister, with Mila Austin playing the organ.

Pittsburg Ward

By Boots Barrus and Thora Astle

Pittsburg Ward Conference for 1969 was held Jan. 19 under direction of the Concord Stake presidency.

Bishop Charlie Peters conducted the evening session and reported the standing of the ward and its progress. Other speakers for the evening were Pres. Raymond Evanson, Pres. Ernest Adads, Counselor Irel Barrus and Pres. Ted E. Madsen.

The choir, under direction of Gloria Magleby, presented two numbers. A testimony meeting was held before Sacrament meeting with Counselor Lowell Budge conducting.

Patt Barrus, daughter of Irel and Boots Barrus and former member of Pittsburg Ward, was a viistor during the Christmas Holidays. She has since returned to her duties at the Children's Primary Hospital in Salt Lake City. Also visiting during the holidays was Airman First Class Thomas Krey, son of Brother and Sister Ralph Krey, on a three week leave from MacDill Air Force Base where he is a member of the air police security division.

Hayward Stake

Hayward Stake Presidency offices have been completed on the property at Gading Road in Hayward. The facility also includes a baptismal font, dressing rooms and small assembly hall.

President and Margaret McClellan are vacationing in Hawaii.

Pleasant Hill 2d

The strength and joy of our ward lies in the youth. This has been especially event this last month. The Beehives did well in basketball as did the older girls. The youth activity committee concentrated on the Youth Geneology fun shop. This dedicated group of youths attend instructional meetings after Sacrament every Sunday to learn the how and why of geneology.

All the age groups are hurrying to earn the money necessary for the trip to Los Angeles where they will do baptisms. Such energy and dedication is enviable.

The two Pleasant Hill wards joined together for an entertaining evening on Valentine's Day. Donations were used for the teachers' visual aid library. The $100 earned will help our instructors teach the gospel.

Oakland 3rd Ward

Fred W. Stone

Oakland Third Ward was saddened by the death of Fred W. Stone, a High Priest, Ordained Temple Worker and Former President of Tongan Mission, Jan. 24.

Brother Stone was born on a farm at Salem, Utah, December 3, 1906, the oldest child of a family of eight. As a young man he was a member of the 4-H club winning serval 1st prizes with his farming projects. This work won him a Union Pacific Railroad scholarship at the University of Utah. Later he went to the L.D.S. Business College in Salt Lake City, also winning a scholarship while there.

Around this time Brother Stone met Sylvia, who was to be his wife. She lived at Blackfoot, a town 45 miles distant from where he did. The same year Brother Stone received a call to serve in the Tongan Mission. His sweetheart waited three years until his mission was over. On December 12, 1929, they were married for time and ternity in the Salt Lake Temple. Fred and Sylvia were blessed with two sons and one daughter.

After his marriage Brother Stone farmed again on an 80 acres piece of land. However, the depression forced him to give up the farm.

The Stone family moved to Stockton, Calif. Here after one or two temporary jobs he went to work for a wholesale steel company where he remained until the call came to serve as president of the Tongan Mission in 1955.

Brother Stone was active in church work all his life and occupied many positions both in Ward and Stake. His most rewarding work, he said, was the work he did in the Temple for the spirituality he derived from doing the Lord's work there.
